Rule No. 7

LIMITATIONS OF USE

- 7.1 Except for standby service, no other natural gas service shall be used by any customer in conjunction with, or supplementary to, Company's service, either by means of parallel or interconnection natural gas pipelines, or any other connections or device, unless agreed to in writing by the Company.
- 7.2 Gas service shall not be used by a customer for any purpose not specified in the application for service, the rate schedule or in the service contract, and the customer shall not sell or permit others to use such service except when expressly provided for in the schedule of rates and charges under which customer's service is furnished.
