Energy Share makes it easy to care.

Winter in Montana can be long and cold, especially if you can't afford to heat your home. And every year, some Montanans fall victim to harsh winters and circumstances that leave them unable to cope with their heating bills. That's why thousands of people across the state do what Montanans have always done: help their neighbors in need by giving a little extra to keep homes warm. Energy Share of Montana is an independent, nonprofit organization formed to help people who cannot afford to heat their homes, but may not qualify for other forms of assistance. Energy Share is more than a helping hand in an energy emergency. We also work to educate Montanans about energy issues facing low-income people, with an emphasis on looking for ways to help recipients move toward self-reliance through energy efficiency.

Your contribution is well spent.

Energy Share receives money from private contributions, then assists deserving people in the communities from which contributions are made. So you end up helping your neighbor. Not a single penny is spent on administration. Energy Share works closely with energy providers and human-services agencies to make sure your contribution does the most good. All donations are tax-deductible. If you can help, please make a donation. Use the pledge form on the back of this brochure and make winter a lot brighter for your neighbors in need.
